The screenshot displays the EBSCOhost search interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'New Search', 'Subjects', 'Publications', 'Images', and 'More'. A search bar contains the query 'global warming OR climate change' with a 'Search' button. Below the search bar, there are options for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', and 'Search History'. The main results area shows 'Search Results: 1 - 10 of 152,043'. The first result is 'Encyclopedia of Global Warming & Climate Change' by Philander, S. George. The second is 'Talking about Climate Change and Global Warming' by Lineman, Maurice. The third is 'Getting serious about the new realities of global climate change' by Burney, Jennifer A. The fourth is 'Media coverage of climate change and global warming en El País, El Mundo y La Vanguardia' by Fernández-Reyes, R. On the left, a 'Refine Results' sidebar includes 'Current Search', 'Limit To' (Full Text, References Available, etc.), 'Source Types' (All Results, Journals, etc.), and 'Subject: Thesaurus Term'. On the right, there's a 'Folder has items' section and a 'Related Images' section with thumbnail images.

Abstract: The article discusses research conducted by research associates Robert Rockwell and Linda Gormezano which found that polar bears might consume terrestrial food sources like snow geese, eggs and caribou to prevent starvation as annual ice breakup due to climate change is expected to separate them from their sea-ice hunting grounds and their key prey, seals. The research was based on observations on one polar bear population along the western Hudson Bay.
