Celebrate the Class of 2020

While commencement ceremonies may look a little different this year, the U.S. Census Bureau is looking forward to celebrating the class of 2020 and helping to prepare recent graduates for what comes next. Just like completing a degree shapes each graduate's future, so does the 2020 Census. As graduates prepare to celebrate commencement season as a 2020 Census partner, the census asks you to share some of these helpful resources with recent graduates and their families to help make sure the class of 2020 is counted in the right place. Update: Additional ACOs Added to List of U.S. Census Bureau 2020 Census Field Operations to Resume

As soon as it is safe to do so, more ACOs will also resume activities. The ACOs below will resume operations in the Denver Region.

As part of the phased restart, the census will resume Update Leave, where 2020 Census invitation packets are dropped off at front doors of households in areas where the majority of households do not receive mail at their home and does not require interaction between households and a Census employee.
