Panhandle Library System Works to Form a Shared Automation System for Nebraska Libraries

The Panhandle Library System has been working on a shared automation project for the past year. Many of our member libraries have expressed interest in developing an environment where libraries can view neighboring library's catalogs and share resources. Last September the PLS C.E. Tech Committee decided to focus its efforts on shared automation and changed its name to the PLS Technology Committee. Within the past three months, the PLS Technology Committee has grown from six members to twenty-five! The Panhandle Library System Shared Automation Project is moving forward full speed ahead.

Although PLS plans to initiate the development of the shared automation system, any library in the state of Nebraska is able to participate in the shared environment. The PLS Technology Committee has a diverse membership group from all types of libraries; public, school, special, and academic. Many of these libraries neighbor libraries in other Nebraska Regional Library Systems, such as RVLS and MLS. Participation in the shared system is not exclusive to PLS member libraries. Once the PLS Technology Committee makes some final decisions, The Panhandle Library System plans to open participation to libraries across the state.

PLS received several quotes from vendors regarding start-up, data migration, and hosting fees. Vendors were asked to provide tiered pricing for annual hosting/technology support fees. A tiered pricing scale reduces the library's annual fee based on the number of libraries participating in the shared system, i.e. the more libraries involved, the cheaper the price per individual library. Most of the libraries interested in the shared automation project are small libraries with limited funds. Some libraries have not yet automated and this will be their first online catalog. Pricing is a top priority for our libraries. Many of these libraries may not be able to afford to automate, or move to a web-based platform, without consortium pricing. Luckily, a number of vendors provided us with tiered pricing.

The PLS Technology Committee met May 21, 2010 to work toward finalizing the shared automation project. The committee developed a list of questions to ask our selected vendors, and invited three vendors to come to Scottsbluff to demonstrate their product and answer questions. Book Systems – Atrium; COMPANION Corporation – Alexandria; and Mandarin-Oasis came to WNCC-Scottsbluff July 28 to present to the PLS Technology Committee.

The PLS Technology Committee will meet again in September to work toward finalizing the project. Please feel free to contact the Panhandle Library System with any questions regarding the PLS Shared Automation Project.

Celebration of Nebraska Books Planned for Nov. 6, 2010

A new event hosted by the Nebraska Center for the Book will highlight 2010 One Book One Nebraska, honor winners of the 2010 Jane Geske and Nebraska Book Awards, and announce the book choice for the 2011 One Book One Nebraska. The Celebration of Nebraska Books will be held at the Nebraska State Historical Society's Nebraska History Museum, 131 Centennial Mall North, in Lincoln, from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m. on November 6, 2011.

The celebration is open to the public and will include a program by Dr. Joseph J. Wydeven on The Home Place by Wright Morris, the 2010 One Book One Nebraska. One Book One Nebraska is a statewide reading program encouraging all Nebraskans to read and talk about the same book. Throughout 2010, Nebraskans have been reading, discussing and learning about Wright Morris, The Home Place, and the interaction between photo and text. 2010 One Book One Nebraska is hosted by the Lone Tree Literary Society and is sponsored by the Nebraska Center for the Book, Nebraska Humanities Council, Nebraska Library Association, Nebraska Library Commission, and the University of Nebraska Press. Public nominations for the 2011 One Book One Nebraska were submitted in June and July. Finalists will be revealed in the fall and the 2011 selection will be announced at the Nov. 6 celebration.

The celebration will feature presentation of the Nebraska Book Awards and Jane Geske Award. The 2010 Nebraska Book Awards honor authors and publishers of books with a Nebraska connection published in 2009. Featured winning authors will read from their work and sign copies of their books. The 2010 Jane Geske Award will be presented to an organization, business, library, school, association, or group that has made an exceptional contribution to literacy, books, reading, libraries, or literature in Nebraska. The Jane Geske Award commemorates Geske's passion for books, and was established in recognition of her contributions to the well-being of the libraries of Nebraska. Jane Geske was a founding member of the Nebraska Center for the Book, former director of the Nebraska Library Commission, and a long-time leader in many Nebraska library and literary activities.

The Nebraska Center for the Book Annual Meeting will also be held at the November 6 celebration. An Awards Reception honoring the winning authors will conclude the festivities. PLS Libraries Join Nebraska Libraries on the Web Project

Ten Panhandle libraries will participate in phase 2 of the Nebraska Libraries on the Web project sponsored by the Nebraska Library Commission. Public libraries without websites that are open more than fifteen hours per week were invited to join the project. The Nebraska Library Commission is sponsoring Nebraska Libraries on the Web in an effort to help public libraries without web pages have a presence on the web. The ultimate goal is for all public libraries in Nebraska to have library websites. The Panhandle Library System was the first library to be a part of the project. Phase 1 began in northeastern Nebraska with seven participating libraries. Michael Sauers came to western Nebraska last week to train ten new participants from the Panhandle on how to use WordPress. Libraries participating in the Nebraska Libraries on the Web project will design a web site in WordPress. For more information on WordPress and the Nebraska Libraries on the Web project go to <http://libraries.ne.gov/projectblog/>. You can also access the blog from the front page of the PLS website under "Links."

Annual Highlights from Panhandle Libraries 2009-2010

Chadron Public Library – Rossella Tesch

The library has added a new computer. Now we have eleven computers linked to the internet for public use. Summer Kick-off was May 22nd. Three firefighters were there to show their truck and equipment to the children and parents. So far sixteen kids have enrolled. We have implemented a new way to back-up our data by storing on portable external drives. To protect our computers from viruses, we have installed Ubuntu as OS in four of them and have not experienced any major problems since then. Our Book Club and Knitting/Crocheting Club are in their fourth year of existence. We offer our services free of charge to neighboring communities. For the first time we offered English as Second Language classes. We did this in co-operation with Job Corps.

Chappell Memorial Library – Dixie Riley

We are still working on repairs in the basement from last summer's water damage due to a broken sprinkler head. We did a reading contest for classes K-4th with a party given to the winners and their teacher. The very competitive Kindergartners were the honorees and we had a May Day tea following table top displays with all sorts of household collections with a People's Choice Award given.

Gering Public Library – Diane Downer

This summer we had a teen program called Teen Iron Chef in which over 45 teens participated. Suzanne Myers, Gering Library Board Members, and ProStart culinary instructor at Scottsbluff High Scholl helped Beth Trupp with this program. We had ten teams compete to create a dish that included pound cake, pudding, whipped cream, strawberry preserves, nuts, chocolate chips, and a secret ingredient, which was Swedish fish. They were judged on appearance and plating, creativity, taste, and teamwork and presentation. Recycled bicycle parts were made in to library art. Doug Hoevert chaired this project and sculptured five bicycle racks. He used the summer reading program theme for his inspiration. He sculptured a shark, lobster, clown fish, seahorse, and a rainbow trout. They were then painted by local artists from the North Platte Valley Artist Guild. Sandy Strey, our Public Services Librarian, painted the rainbow trout.

Hemingford Public Library – Deb Finley

Hemingford Public Library Frank Duhon Memorial Unveiling was presented on April 24, 2010. Among those in attendance were State Senator LeRoy Loudon, Mrs. Mildred Duhon, artist Aaron Wade, and Marjorie Harrison of the Panhandle Library System. Mr. Duhon had left a trust to the library for a permanent historical display. After many years of trying to come up with ideas for a fitting display, we asked area artist Aaron Wade what he could do with our wall.

Kimball Public Library – Jan Sears

Hosted the Workshop Internet Technology in March which seemed to be enjoyed by all. Introduced the Teen and Adult Summer Reading Programs that are being well- received for the first year. Carolyn Brown's retirement, training Jan Sears, and the process of getting used to a new director with many changes. The installation of 3 new public computers with the availability of wireless for the first time, and 2 new staff computers, updating to Circulation Plus and Alliance Plus and the training of staff on new cataloging processes.

Annual Highlights from Panhandle Libraries 2009-2010

Lied Scottsbluff Public Library – Bev Russell

Completed successful fundraising for the library building project with a $600,000 grant from the Lied Foundation Trust. Renamed the library to Lied Scottsbluff Public Library. Broke ground on February 23, 2010 on the expansion and remodel of the library.

Mitchell Public Library – Maryruth Reed

Michelle Buckley and Priscilla Carrillo have both completed the basic skills offered by NLC. Congratulations Michelle and Cilla! The library has applied for a $307,000 Community Development Block Grant; if funds are awarded, we will start construction on an addition to the library this summer.

Ogallala Elementary Schools – Betty Armstrong

On February 8, 2010 Kim Brown, Marc Brown's sister, came and visited with the students at Progress Elementary. The character D.W. in Marc's books is based on Kim. The students really enjoyed the presentation. In March, Prairie View again hosted the March Madness reading contest in which the students were divided into 12 teams for 2 ½ weeks. The winning team and the team with the highest number correct enjoyed ice cream sundaes. This year Prairie View students who met certain goals point-wise were treated to a breakfast of muffins, caramel rolls, juice and fruit for the first semester. Second semester those meeting their goals were treated to ice cream sundaes.

ESU 13 Media Services – Sandy White

Esu 13 Media Services worked with 19 area school libraries to form a consortium to cooperatively purchase K-12 EBSCO databases for the 2010-11 school year (at a great price). The subscription starts in July, and training will take place on August 31st and September 1st. Databases include: ERIC, Health Source: Consumer Edition, Newspaper Source, Professional Development Collection, TOPICSearch, MAS Ultra-School Edition, Middle SearchPlus, and Primary Search.

Sidney Public Library – Doris Jensen

The "Class in a tote" has been the newest and most exciting project. Teachers may request books on a certain subject and grade level. The staff selects the material and the tote is ready for the teacher on a certain date. They may also be delivered on the bookmobile route. The library hosted four authors. An adult book discussion group was started in June 2009 and recently a teen book discussion group was started for this summer's reading program.

WNCC Library – Sidney – Merrillene Wood

Library Services Presentations/Trainings: The library was able to facilitate training in library and computer services for incoming freshmen and for other classes each semester. We also facilitated training for online classes, email and student portals. Art Display in the Library: For the first time, the library displayed student/faculty/staff artwork in the library during the academic year. The library hosted a Southern PLS Librarians Meeting.

This summer the Panhandle Library System sponsored a summer reading program event for twenty-nine public libraries in the Panhandle. Mr. Conrad's Musicademy performed Jump-On-In to tie into the 2010 statewide "Make-A-Splash" SRP theme.

Nebraska Library Commission Awarded Prestigious Grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services to Support Library Education.

Thanks to a grant from the federal Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), the Nebraska Library Commission will administer funds to provide scholarships, internships, stipends, and value-added educational experiences to foster the recruitment, education, and 21st century skills development of pre-professional and professional students in Nebraska.

Nebraska Library Commission Director Rod Wagner commented, "The Nebraska Library Commission is pleased to receive a 2010 Laura Bush 21st Century Librarian Program grant. The Commission's Cultivating Rural Librarians' 21st Century Skills program will support the education of Nebraska students engaged in pre-professional and professional programs. The focus on 21st century skills is essential to meeting the library service needs of Nebraska's diverse and changing population. We have high expectations that our program will equip hundreds of students with essential skills leading to higher quality library services across Nebraska."

"Library services are in great demand as evidenced by the growing numbers of patrons turning to the library to meet their education, workforce, and health information needs. At the same time, information technology has transformed library service and opened the doors to innovation so that libraries can reach diverse people more effectively. In this fast-changing environment, providing training and educational support for librarians and library staff is more important than ever," said IMLS Acting Director Marsha L. Semmel.

The Nebraska grant begins November 2010 and is supported by the following partners: Central Community College, Nebraska Educational Media Association, Nebraska Library Association, Nebraska's Regional Library Systems, RSL Research Group, University of Missouri, and University of Nebraska at Omaha. This is one of thirty-eight awards made to libraries and education institutions across the nation. This national, multifaceted grant program supports tuition assistance, curriculum development, service expectations, job placement, recruitment of non-traditional library students, and support for doctoral candidates to teach library science and research. In 2002 First Lady Laura Bush announced the President's multimillion-dollar support of an initiative to help bolster the library profession. Since then, IMLS has helped fund the education of 3,220 master's degree students, 186 doctoral students, 1,256 pre-professional students, and 26,186 continuing education students.

As more information becomes available about Nebraska's Cultivating Rural Librarians' 21st Century Skills program, it will be posted on the website, NowHiringAtYourLibrary or NowHiring.nlc.state.ne.us

Institute for Holocaust Education offers “The Wartime Escape: Margret and H.A. Rey’s Journey from France” Exhibit.

The exhibit tells the story of the Margaret and H.A. Rey, the authors of the Curious George book series, who managed to escape from the Nazis with the manuscripts for their original stories. This exhibit features 25 framed art prints by artist Allan Drummond and supplemental archival images from the extraordinary holdings of the DeGrummond Collection of Children’s Literature at the University of Southern Mississippi. The exhibition is based in part on the 2005 publication, The Journey that Saved Curious George: The True Wartime Escape of Margret and H.A. Rey, written by Louise Borden and illustrated by Allan Drummond (Houghton Mifflin Company, New York). The exhibition is organized and curated by Beth Seldin Dotan, Director of the Institute for Holocaust Education in Omaha, Nebraska.

More than just the tale of a rousing escape from occupied France, this exhibition celebrates a timeless survival story, one that serves as a potent reminder of the power of human creativity and the cost when voices and visions are silenced by the impact of war.

Content: 25 framed art prints, 8–10 archival reproductions, and 6 interpretive panels. Run Feet: 100-125.

The Institute for Holocaust Education is offering this exhibit at a reduced fee for Nebraska locations during a 2012-2013 tour. The cost for a 5 week rental is $2,000 and available for the following dates:

September 1, 2012 – October 5, 2012

October 14, 2012 – November 23, 2012

December 8, 2012 – January 19th, 2013 (extended to accommodate school break)

February 3, 2013 – March 10, 2013

For more information or print samples contact Ilana Weiss at the Institute for Holocaust Education at 402.334.6576 or iweiss@adl.org. Information about the exhibit and the Institute for Holocaust Education can be found at www.ihene.org.

Nebraska OverDrive Libraries Group - New Term Begins October 1, 2010

If you've been thinking about joining the Nebraska OverDrive Libraries Group in order to provide your patrons with access to its shared collection of downloadable digital audiobooks and eBooks, now would be a great time to do so!

Why now?

Because the Nebraska OverDrive Libraries Group participation term runs from October 1 through September 30, and joining at the beginning of the term gets you a full year of access for your participation fee! (Note: OverDrive will set up new participants quarterly, in October, January, April, and July, but if you join mid-term your participation fee won't be prorated.)

Currently, 47 libraries participate in the Nebraska OverDrive Libraries Group. As of today, the shared collection contains 2,520 audiobook titles and 180 eBook titles (we just started adding eBooks in July!), with more titles added weekly.

Even if you're not a member of the group, you can search or browse the Nebraska OverDrive Libraries catalog to see what's currently included: <http://nebraska.lib.overdrive.com/>

To learn more about the Nebraska OverDrive Libraries group, including how much it costs to participate, which libraries currently belong, and how to sign up, see: <http://www.nlc.state.ne.us/netserv/pricing/overdrive.html>

Deadline: Participation forms and purchase agreements need to be turned in to NLC by August 31 if you'd like your library to be set up during October 2010.

Please feel free to contact Susan Knisely, Online Services Librarian (susan.knisely@nebraska.gov) or Devra Dragos, Technology and Access Services Director (devra.dragos@nebraska.gov) with any questions you might have about OverDrive, in general, or the Nebraska OverDrive Libraries group in particular.

eBooks are now a part of the Nebraska Overdrive Libraries group:

Susan Knisely, Online Services Librarian with the Nebraska Library Commission, said this regarding eBooks- "The group just added a starter collection of eBooks in July to see how they work, and how popular they are. They are EPUB and PDF format. The intent is to evaluate response, and buy additional eBook titles in the new year based on demand and feedback. The group will probably retain an audiobook emphasis since that's what we started with, but we certainly do plan to add more eBooks, especially if we see demand."

FYI – the eBooks do not work with Kindles. Here's OverDrive's official list of compatible eBook devices: <http://www.overdrive.com/resources/drc/compatibleebookdevices.aspx>

If you want to see what titles are available in eBook format, go to <http://nebraska.lib.overdrive.com/> and click on the "Advanced search..." link (right beneath the search box). On the advanced search screen you can select "All eBooks" from the Format menu and then click "Search."

Banned Books Week: Celebrating the Freedom to Read - Sept. 25–Oct. 2, 2010

Written by, Mary Jo Ryan, Communications Coordinator, Nebraska Library Commission, The Atrium, 1200 N St., Suite 120
Lincoln NE 68508-2023, 402-471-3434, 402-471-2083-FAX

Banned Books Week is an annual event celebrating the freedom to read and the importance of the First Amendment. Held during the last week of September, Banned Books Week highlights the benefits of free and open access to information while drawing attention to the harms of censorship by spotlighting actual or attempted banning of books across the United States.

Intellectual freedom—the freedom to access information and express ideas, even if the information and ideas might be considered unorthodox or unpopular—provides the foundation for Banned Books Week. Banned Books Week stresses the importance of ensuring the availability of unorthodox or unpopular viewpoints for all who wish to read and access them.

The books featured during Banned Books Week have been targets of attempted banning. Fortunately, while some books were banned or restricted, in a majority of cases the books were not banned, all thanks to the efforts of librarians, teachers, booksellers, and members of the community to retain the books in the library collections. Imagine how many more books might be challenged—and possibly banned or restricted—if librarians, teachers, and booksellers across the country did not use Banned Books Week each year to teach the importance of our First Amendment rights and the power of literature, and to draw attention to the danger that exists when restraints are imposed on the availability of information in a free society.

Banned Books Week is sponsored by the American Booksellers Association; American Booksellers Foundation for Free Expression; the American Library Association; American Society of Journalists and Authors; Association of American Publishers; and the National Association of College Stores. It is endorsed by the Center for the Book in the Library of Congress.

For more information on getting involved with Banned Books Week: Celebrating the Freedom to Read, please see Calendar of Events and Ideas and Resources. You can also contact the ALA Office for Intellectual Freedom at 800-545-2433, ext. 4220, or E-mail: bbw@ala.org.

Stephen Abram has been involved in both internationally for his entire career. This session will explore both tried and true methods as well as some of the emerging strategies that are gaining traction. As the world of information and technology changes rapidly, it is even more critical that libraryland positions itself well for the future. Libraries matter.

LETTERS ABOUT LITERATURE

Letters About Literature is a national reading and writing promotion program. Sponsored in cooperation with the Nebraska Center for the Book, the Nebraska Library Commission, and Houchen Bindery Ltd.

Participation Guidelines for Readers

Books have wings. You can't see them, but they are there just the same. On books' wings, readers can soar to new places where they meet intriguing characters and experience exciting adventures. But a book's wings can also help a reader rise above difficult situations so that they see the world — or themselves — with new understanding. Has a book touched your life in a personal way? If so, we invite you to enter this year's LAL competition. Have you ever felt the power and lift of literature?

How to Enter

First, determine your competition level. Letters About Literature welcomes entries from all readers — reluctant as well as enthusiastic — on three Levels of Competition. Entrants must be at least 9 years old and fall into one of the following categories:

Level 1 — Grades 4–6

Level 2 — Grades 7–8

Level 3 — Grades 9–12

Second, reflect and connect! Select a fiction or nonfiction book, a short story, poem, essay or speech (sorry, no song lyrics) you have read and about which you have strong feelings. Explore those feelings and why you reacted the way you did during or after reading the author's work. Consider one or more of these questions when writing your letter:

Did the characters, conflict or setting mirror your life in some way? If so, how? If not, why not?

What strengths or flaws do you share with a character or characters in the book?

What did the book show you about your world that you never noticed before?

What surprised you about yourself while you were reading this book? Why was this work meaningful to you?

Your letter need not answer all of these questions, of course. These are just starting points to spark ideas.

Third, write a personal, reflective letter (not a fan letter or a book report!) Express yourself! A letter is less formal than an essay or research paper. Write honestly and in your own voice, as if you were having a conversation with the author. Those are the best letters to read and the most fun to write! Keep in mind these two tips:

Correspond, don't compliment! Your letter should inform rather than flatter the author.

Do not summarize the book's plot! The author wrote the book and knows what happened. What the author doesn't know is how the book affected you.

Our judges do not count words but we do have recommended lengths: Entries for Level 1 should be no less than 100 words and no more than 400 words. • Entries for Level 2 should be no less than 300 words and no more than 600 words. • Entries for Level 3 should be no less than 500 words and no more than 800 words. Please refer to the Contest Entry Guidelines in Rules #4 of the Official rules found at www.lettersaboutliterature.org for complete information on how to prepare your letter.

Fourth, submit your letter by December 10, 2010, using the required entry coupon. (See next page!)

STATE AND NATIONAL AWARDS

LAL awards prizes on both the state and national levels. Each state center has its own panel of judges who select the top essayists in the state. State Winners will receive a $50 Target Gift Cards and additional prizes, and then advance to the National Level Judging.

On each competition level, a panel of national judges for the Center for the Book in the Library of Congress will select six (6) National Winners (2 per Level of Competition) and twelve (12) National Honorable Mention Winners (4 per Level of Competition). The National Winners will receive a $500 Target GiftCard, plus each will secure a $10,000 LAL Reading Promotion Grant in his/her name for a community or school library so that others can experience personal relationships with authors and the stories they tell. The National Honorable Mention Winners will each receive a $100 Target GiftCard, plus each will secure a $1,000 LAL Reading Promotion Grant in his/her name for a community or school library. The community or school library selected for the National Winners and National Honorable Mention Winners is at the Sponsor's sole discretion. Refer to the National Level Judging in the Official Rules for more details.

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY. A Purchase will not enhance your chances of winning. MANY WILL ENTER, FEW WILL WIN. Open to legal residents of the 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia and the U.S. Virgin Islands enrolled as a student in grades 4-12 during the 2010-2011 school year, 9 years or older as of 9/1/10. Contest Starts 8/1/10 and ends 12/22/10. Void where prohibited. Subject to Official Rules found at <http://www.read.gov/contests>.

How to Submit Your Letter

RETURN ADDRESS. Print your name and complete return address (either home or school) in the upper right corner of the first page of your letter. Letters without a return address and adequate contact information will be disqualified.

ENTRY COUPON. Each letter must be accompanied by an entry coupon (below). Staple the coupon to the last page of your letter. Should you win a state or a national prize, your State Center for the Book will contact you using this information, so be sure your coupon is complete and legible!

MAILING ENVELOPE & ADDRESSES. Entries should be mailed in a flat 8x10" envelope or larger. Please indicate the competition level — either 1, 2 or 3 — on your envelope. Include a complete return address on your mailing envelope.

Letters About Literature

Competition Level (Indicate level 1, 2 or 3)
P.O. Box 609, Dallas, PA 18612

DEADLINE: Your Entry must be postmarked by December 10, 2010, (and arrive at LAL Central no later than December 20, 2010).

ASSESSMENT. All entries will be judged on the following criteria:

Content (the writer's achievement in addressing the contest theme).

Writer's Voice (the writer's style and originality of expression).

Exposition (the writer's use of language skills, organization and grammar).

Each criterion will be scored on a scale of zero (0) to five (5), where five (5) is excellent and zero (0) is not fulfilling the judging criteria.

OWNERSHIP. All letters become the property of the Center for the Book in the Library of Congress. Please make a copy of your entry as no letters will be returned.

NOTIFICATION & CONTACT. State Centers for the Book will notify state winners on or about 3/21/11. The Center for the Book in the Library of Congress will notify National Winners and National Honorable Mention Winners on or about 4/21/11. www.loc.gov/loc/cfbook/letters.htm. For program updates, please see www.lettersaboutliterature.or or centerforthebook.nebraska.go, or e-mail lal@epix.ne.

Note for Teachers Submitting Class Sets:

- When mailing class sets, please include a cover letter that lists the names of each child who has written a letter. Mail class sets in one flat envelope rather than individual envelopes. Use one envelope for each level. Cover letters DO NOT take the place of entry coupons, however. Each letter must also have a complete entry coupon.
- Please do not assign the same book to an entire class, as this misses the spirit of the program — identifying a personal relationship with an author and/or book. Likewise, rather than assigning the same opening paragraph or topic sentences, encourage students to express themselves individually.
- Visit www.lettersaboutliterature.or for free teaching materials, including lesson plans, assessment checklists, writing samples, plus teaching tips from our many LAL teachers who have participated in the past.

The minutes from March 9, 2010 were approved with a motion from Beth and seconded by Floyd. The motion carried.

Round Table: Terry reported that Alliance Public Schools has AR online. There were fifteen applicants for the library director position at the Alliance Public Library. Sue has seen an increase in circulation in the Hemingford school libraries. She is busy with inventory. Rick stated that Banner County is also ending the school year. They are having AR prizes.

PLS Committees:

Public Relations Committee - The committee has decided to have the author tour in the Fall of 2011.

Scholarship Committee - There are two scholarship applicants for $150. per applicant. They are Kelly Dible and Michelle Onstott who both are employed by the Sidney Public Library. Both applicants would like to attend the Heartland Conference in Omaha on June 14 and 15. Glenda moved for acceptance of both applicants. Dixie seconded the motion. The motion was approved.

Nebraska Library Commission: The Nebraska Unicameral cut state funding an additional 2%. With the new fiscal year beginning July 1, there will be an additional 5% budget cut. The Nebraska Library Commission is 65% funded by the state and 35% by the federal government. The staff is working on a broadband grant that will be partly funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. Nebraska is one of 14 states to receive matching funds from the Gates Foundation. If the state receives the grant, the funding will pay for computers, laptops, furnishings, and the upgrading of broadband. The state will know in September if the grant has been approved. The state is also working on a grant for scholarships and internships for recipients who are working in libraries or furthering education in the field. Services for talking books, Braille and digital talking books are going well.

PLS Coordinator's Report: Margie reported that Liz Kupper is the new director for the Arthur County Library. Tech Day will be in Sidney at the WNCC campus on August 3. She has been scheduling Conrad for the libraries in the Panhandle for his visits during summer reading. The journal collection rotation is going well. Margie attended the open house for the dedication of a mural in the Hemingford Public Library. The mural was a donation from a patron.

Budget: Margie presented the financial report to the board. A copy had been provided to the board in their packets.

Old Business:

Discussion of Policy for PLS DVD Collection: The results of the survey were positive. Most were very satisfied with the collection. There was interest in the collection having more family orientated and children's dvd's. Most responding prefer the collection to be rotated rather than selecting certain titles. It was thought the collection be limited to movies and not include tv series. A policy will be ready this September.

PLS Member Survey: Survey results from members rated general help with questions or issues as very important. This was followed by continuing ed training and workshops and networking. Lowest results were the annual meeting, author tour and assisting library boards.

New Business:

Presentation of Proposed Budget - FY 2010-2011 With a 3.9% to 5% cut in funding from the state to PLS, Margie proposed a budget cut of 5% from last year's budget. PLS Ballot Results: Sara Brennemann, a trustee from Grant County Library, Merrillene Wood, Library Director of the WNCC Sidney Campus and Terry Christensen, elementary media/librarian for the Alliance Public Schools were elected to the PLS Board. Their terms begin July 23, 2010.
