Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) & Collection Information

What Is Descriptive Video?

A descriptive video is a regular home video cassette or disc that has been formatted to include an additional audio track. On this additional audio track, a narrator describes the visual elements of the program - the action, characters, locations, costumes and sets - without interfering with the program's dialogue or sound effects. No special feature or device is needed to hear this audio description. All you need is a standard VHS video cassette recorder (VCR) or DVD player and a television.

Many of the videos in the Nebraska Descriptive Video Collection are great blockbuster movies, popular Public Broadcasting Service television programs, and select Turner Classic Movies purchased from the Descriptive Video Service® (DVS®), a non-profit organization begun in 1990 by the WGBH Educational Foundation, a producer of public television programs. All DVS® home videos are also closed-captioned for people who are deaf and hard-of-hearing.

Other videos in the Nebraska Descriptive Video Collection are network and cable television programs produced with audio description and donated by Narrative Television Network (NTN) a television network founded in 1988 with the mission to make television "programs accessible to visually impaired people."

Major funding for Descriptive Video Service® and Narrative Television Network is provided by the United States Department of Education. The Nebraska Descriptive Video Collection also includes videos purchased from AudioVision Canada and TheatreVision.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) & Collection Information

Loan Policy

Borrowers must be registered, active users of the Nebraska Library Commission Talking Book and Braille Service. Descriptive video service is designed to benefit individuals who are blind or visually impaired. Individuals who are physically disabled or learning disabled are advised that they would probably not benefit from descriptive video service. Residents of states other than Nebraska are not eligible. Those under 18 may borrow videos with a parent's or guardian's signed permission. The library will not provide, nor will it loan, VCRs or TVs.

All borrowers must complete, sign, and return the Descriptive Video Borrower Registration Form.

If a video is lost or damaged, the Nebraska Library Commission will invoice the borrower for the cost of replacement. Another video will not be loaned to the borrower until the invoice is paid.

Each borrower may borrow only one title at a time per loan period. Borrowers may not check out another title until the title currently checked out is received and checked in by the library.

Borrowers may keep a video request list on file at the library. The first available video from the list will be sent automatically each time a borrower returns a video. Video titles may not be reserved for specific dates.

The loan period is 14 days. There will be no renewals.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) & Collection Information

How to Borrow from the Descriptive Video Collections

Call the Talking Book and Braille Service toll-free at 800-742-7691. A title will be sent from the stock available at the time of the request, so borrowers should have selected several titles from the catalog before calling. The library will maintain request lists but not accept reserves for specific dates.

Tips for Home Video Care

Videos will melt; don't place them near heaters and radiators. The heat of a closed car or direct sunlight causes major video damage. Magnetic or electro-magnetic fields may damage videos. Do not place videos on top of TV sets or stereo speakers; or near electric motors. Dust, dirt, food particles, and liquids will all cause damage if they get inside the video cassette. Condensation on the tape will keep it from playing. Allow videos to warm to room temperature before inserting in the player.

DVS 70497 Assignment Discovery: Great Books, Tales of Edgar Allan Poe / Wuthering Heights

Explore the psychology of terror in some of Poe's most haunting tales. Interwoven through these stories is the most tragic tale of all-that of author Edgar Allan Poe. Many of his tales resonate with themes from his own life: abandonment, sickness, and fear. Leading us through Poe's tales of terror are well-known horror writers and directors. Wuthering Heights: On the cold, damp moors of England burned a love that transcended death. Emily Brontë's novel of thwarted passion and cruelty was considered immoral when it was first published. The central character, Heathcliff, became an archetype for the modern anti-hero. This program compares Heathcliff's character to Bronte's life of isolation and rejection. Cable in the Classroom presentation for middle school and high school students. Narrative Television Network.

DVS 70501 Assignment Discovery: Turmoil in the 20th Century, World War II

Learn about catastrophes that changed lives across Europe and in the world beyond. See why these tragic events occurred and how they continue to affect the world today. Segments cover several nations and the icy North Atlantic. Cable in the Classroom presentation for middle school and high school students. Narrative Television Network.

Two classic episodes from the much-loved TV series starring Lorne Greene, Michael Landon, Pernell Roberts, and Dan Blocker. In "Escape to Ponderosa," Adam is bush-whacked by three army deserters who take refuge in a nearby farmhouse. When they're discovered the Cartwrights get involved in a deadly struggle with the cruel and vindictive officer who's hunting the deserters down. In "The Bloodline," soon after Ben is forced to shoot a dangerous drunk in self-defense, the man's teenaged son arrives from back east. Vowing to avenge his father's death, and abetted by his father's ladyfriend, the troubled youth comes gunning for Ben. AudioVision Canada.
