

Accessibility Scavenger Hunt

Where You See Yourself
One Book for Nebraska Teens 2025

How accessible is your library? School? Favorite hangout?

How many of these accessibility features (or barriers) can you spot?

Out and about:

- A street crossing with auditory signals for the visually-impaired
- A guide dog
- A ramp
- A corner without a curb cut
- A push-button door opener
- A motion-activated door opener
- A broken accessibility feature
- An ADA parking spot with an access aisle
- An awkward object blocking an accessible parking spot

At your school or library:

- An accessible bathroom stall with grab bars on the wall
- A Braille sign or tactile surface for the visually-impaired
- An elevator
- Lever or loop-style doorknobs
- Lowered countertops
- A quiet space
- A location that you can't reach (or maneuver) in a wheelchair
- A heavy door without an automatic door opener
- An access feature that is broken or blocked
- Something too high up for someone to reach sitting down
- Something not on the list that makes the building more accessible.
