

HOW TO SEND PUBLICATIONS

1. State agencies should designate a person responsible for sending publications to the Clearinghouse and answering questions about them.
2. Three copies of a publication that is intended for public distribution and was produced or distributed using state funds should be sent to the Clearinghouse. Annual reports, newsletters, statistical reports, and studies are examples. Interoffice memoranda, correspondence, flyers, meeting announcements and other ephemera are not needed. Formats can include print, microform, audio, video, or electronic. For online publications see our Online Publications Policy.

The Clearinghouse sends one copy to the Nebraska State Historical Society for archival purposes and one copy to the Library of Congress. One copy is cataloged and made available for free public loan from the Library Commission.

3. Please complete and attach a copy of the Clearinghouse Publications Form with new serial publications and all publications published only one time (see the back of the Form for an explanation of serials and monographs)
4. Indicate whether permission is given for the Clearinghouse to reproduce the publication in microform and/or in electronic format for posting to the Electronic State Documents Program web site <http://www.nlc.state.ne.us/epubs/>. If your agency already has it online please provide the URL.
5. Mailing labels and Clearinghouse Publications Forms are available upon request.
6. If you generate your own mailing labels please address to:
