News For And About The Libraries Of Northeast Nebraska

Pilger Tornado Update

The library's director, Lori Ruskamp, says that the library is "actually, really fine". The damage to the roof will be covered by the library's insurance policy. The computers are dirty and may not need to be replaced, but if they do, insurance will cover that as well.

The books themselves actually received no water damage whatsoever. A single book fell off a shelf—and that's it. Book donations are not needed and they have already been packed into a pod for storage as the building is repaired.

Lori says that what is really needed is donations for the town itself. The middle school, senior center, bank and the Co-Op (the major employer) were all destroyed. She recommends gas and grocery cards or monetary donations to the city itself if you would like to help since the library is in such good shape compared to the rest of town. Midwest Bank in Norfolk has set up a "Pilger Fund" for donations. Donations can be mailed to Pilger Emergency Fund, c/o Midwest Bank, Norfolk Branch, Box 886, Norfolk, NE 68702

Library Commission Approves Change in Regional Library System Areas

At its meeting on May 16 the Nebraska Library Commission approved a change in Nebraska's regional library system structure based on recommendations from the Nebraska Regional Library Systems Configuration Task Force. As a result, Nebraska's current six regional service areas will be re-organized into four regional areas. The regional changes are expected to be in place no earlier than January 2015.

State and federal budget cuts in past years and flat funding in recent years prompted consideration of reducing the number of Nebraska regional library systems. Failure to secure increased funding for the current state biennium budget led to formation of the task force to develop recommendations for regional organization. The task force met several times before proposing regional options. The regional options were presented for discussion at the Library Commission's March 2014 meeting.

Library Commission staff, regional library system directors, and regional library system boards are working on implementation actions to create the new regional entities. The Regional Library Systems Task Force Configuration report, questions and answers about regional changes, and the new regional map are available via the Library Commission's website: <http://nlc.nebraska.gov/systems/>

Nebraska Library Commission Awards 21st Century Skills Scholarships

Thanks to a grant from the federal Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), the Nebraska Library Commission recently awarded 21st Century Librarian scholarships to eight Nebraska students in undergraduate Library Science programs. Nebraska Library Commission Director Rod Wagner commented, "The 21st Century Librarian scholarships are helping to ensure that Nebraska libraries have educated and skilled staff to serve the thousands of Nebraskans who rely on libraries for a variety of needs each and every day. We congratulate these students for their efforts to improve their knowledge and skills and wish them the very best toward their educational and career goals."

Cedar Rapids Public Library celebrated its 100th anniversary with a visit from local author Margaret Lukas.

Hartington Family Receives Good Neighbor Award

Original published in the May 30 Columbus Telegram

The Good Neighbor awards recognize individuals from Nebraska who have performed neighborly acts and deeds unselfishly without personal gain. The award is sponsored by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Omaha World Herald. This is its 70th year.

For more than 20 years, Carol Vogel and her five children of Clarkson have been instrumental in organizing the Summer Story Hour program at the Howells Public Library. Carol attends many meetings to get ready for Story Hour each year and leads a team of volunteers, which always includes her own children, as provide four weeks of reading and fun activities for preschool through third grade children. Not only have her children grown up helping her with Story Hour, her daughters, Rachel and Rita also started a summer art camp, Aartvark, for elementary school children more than five years ago. The Vogel Family unselfishly donates their time and talents to provide summer learning opportunities and activities every year, and they do it purely for the love of education.
