News For And About The Libraries Of Northeast Nebraska

Be a Part of the Veterans History Project

Supported by the Library of Congress and AARP, the Veterans History Project of the American Folklife Center has a goal of collecting, preserving, and making accessible personal accounts and artifacts from American war veterans. The project is collecting accounts from World Wars I & II, Korean War, Vietnam War, Persian Gulf War, and the Afghanistan and Iraq conflicts. While the primary aim is veterans, citizens who played an active role in supporting war efforts, such as medical volunteers or war industry workers are also encouraged to share their stories.

This is an ongoing project that will continue to accept materials that meet the submission requirements. There are three options for submitting materials to the project. The first is a minimum 30 minute interview with a veteran. A veteran may also submit a minimum 20 page memoir, diary, journal, etc. or at least 10 photographs, letters, maps, artwork, etc. It is important to note that submitted materials must be original and will not be returned to their owner.

It is recommended for students in grades 10-12 or adults because of the specific guidelines and requirements which will require significantly more supervision and guidance for students in lower grades. If an interview is being conducted by a student under the age of 18, the interviewer release form must be signed by a parent or guardian.

This is an excellent opportunity for both school and public libraries. Not only can it help engage students about U.S. history, it can also help them see the impact and effect these American wars had on people from their communities firsthand.

2014 One Book One Nebraska Selected

Once Upon a Town by Bob Greene is Nebraska's reading choice for the 2014 One Book One Nebraska statewide reading program.

In this nonfiction story, bestselling author and award-winning journalist Bob Greene goes out in search of "the best America there ever was," and finds it in a small Nebraska town few people pass through today--a town where Greene discovers the echoes of a love story between a country and its sons. During World War II, American soldiers from every city and walk of life rolled through North Platte, NE, on troop trains en route to their ultimate destinations in Europe and the Pacific. This small town, wanting to offer the servicemen warmth and support, transformed its modest railroad depot into the North Platte Canteen. Every day of the year, every day of the war, the Canteen-staffed and funded entirely by local volunteers-was open from five a.m. until the last troop train of the day pulled away after midnight. Once Upon a Town tells the story of how this plains community of only 12,000 people provided welcoming words, friendship, and baskets of food and treats to more than six million GIs by the time the war ended.

The One Book One Nebraska reading program, sponsored by the Nebraska Center for the Book, is entering its tenth year. It encourages Nebraskans across the state to read and discuss one book, chosen from books written by Nebraska authors or that have a Nebraska theme or setting. A committee of the Nebraska Center for the Book selected this book from a list of 71 titles nominated by 141 Nebraskans from across the state. The Nebraska Center for the Book board announced the choice for the 2014 One Book One Nebraska at the Celebration of Nebraska Books on October 26, 2013, in Lincoln.

Libraries across Nebraska will join other literary and cultural organizations in planning book discussions, activities, and events that will encourage Nebraskans to read and discuss this book. Support materials to assist with local reading/discussion activities will be available after January 1, 2014, at <http://onebook.nebraska.gov>. Updates and activity listings will be posted on the One Book One Nebraska Facebook group at <http://www.facebook.com/onebookonenebraska>.

One Book One Nebraska is sponsored by Nebraska Center for the Book, Humanities Nebraska, Nebraska Library Association, and Nebraska Library Commission. The Nebraska Center for the Book is housed at and supported by the Nebraska Library Commission and brings together the state's readers, writers, booksellers, librarians, publishers, printers, educators, and scholars to build the community of the book, supporting programs to celebrate and stimulate public interest in books, reading, and the written word.

The NELS office owns 15 copies of Once Upon a Town. If you would like to borrow all or part of it, email Sarah at nelsdirector@gmail.com. Take the New Accreditation Guidelines for a Test Drive

By Richard Miller, Nebraska Library Commission

A number of Nebraska public library directors have asked if they could try out the new Accreditation Guidelines even though their libraries are not up for reaccreditation this year. In particular they were interested in seeing how their libraries stack up against their “peer libraries,” that is, libraries with populations 15% lower and higher than theirs. NLC staff has now made this possible. The comparative statistics are now drawn automatically from Omnibase, on which the annual data submitted via Bibliostat Collect are displayed. Please keep in mind a few things:

If your library did not submit statistics for the last full year - i.e., 2011—2012 —there will be no comparable statistics for you to look at.

You should not submit the application form itself if your library is not up for re-accreditation in 2013 (or if you are an unaccredited public library that did not submit statistics for 2011 —2012 (see the first point above).

These data change each year, reflecting the statistics submitted for that year. Therefore, you cannot necessarily draw conclusions from the data for this year if your library is applying for accreditation in a different year.

Before participating, be sure to review the materials in the Veterans History Project Field Kit, which is available on the project’s website. It contains important information about required information, submission formats, and the veteran’s release form.

More information about the Veterans History Project, how to participate, as well as browsing the project itself can be found at <http://www.loc.gov/vets/vets-home.html>.

The Accreditation Guidelines and Strategic Planning Workshops For Nebraska Public Libraries January/February 2014

America's Star Libraries 2013

Each year, Library Journal release a report titled "America's Star Libraries". For 2013, Nebraska has nine libraries on the list, four of which are new this year. The Oakland and Creighton public libraries both received 3-star ratings while the Bloomfield and Genoa public libraries both received 5-star ratings. Those four libraries join Hartington public library, Atkinson public library, Central City public library, Neligh public library, and the Falls City library and arts center as the state's star libraries. Atkinson, Central City, Hartington, and Neligh have all been star libraries since the ratings began .

The ratings are based on data collected from data collected in 2011 by the Nebraska Library Commission, which is then sent to and compiled by the Institute of Museum and Library Services. Star libraries are categorized by their annual expenditures.

Northeast Library System Board Minutes Draft

Wednesday, November 20, 2013

The Northeast Library System Board met on Wednesday, November 20, 2013, at the Orchard Public Library. The meeting was called to order at 10:00 AM by President Judy Hagan, and roll call showed board members Judy Hagan, Beth Foulks, Dawnn Tucker, Dee Johnson, Judy Hilkemann, Sara Lee, and Mary Austin present. Also present were Director Sarah Warneke, and Richard Miller from The Library Commission.

The July and September minutes were read and approved. (M) – Johnson, (2) Austin.

Director Sarah Warneke shared various cards and letters.

A financial report prepared by Shelia Cermak was previewed. The report was approved by roll call. MCU

Reports and handouts from the Nebraska Library Commission were presented by Richard Miller. He also shared a pamphlet and information about the Veterans History Project and answered questions and concerns about the accreditation process.

Director Sarah shared a written Director's Report and spoke of the three updated goals of the new technology plan. Winter Workshop will be in Norfolk on February 4th. The Summer Reading Workshop planning is underway.

The strategic planning committee meeting was postponed until a later date.

Unfinished business included a discussion of possible by-law changes to board member numbers. A motion was made to 1) reduce the number of members from 11 to 9; 2) change the small library parameter from "1000 and under" to "3000 and under" and thus the middle denomination to "3000 to 10,000" (M) Johnson; (2) Lee. A roll call vote caused the motion to fail. Sarah will do further research regarding the effects of such a change.

Board officers were confirmed as Judy Hagan, President; Dee Johnson, Vice-President; Beth Foulks, Secretary.

Motion was made by Hilkemann and seconded by Tucker to go in executive session to discuss the Administrative Assistant position at 11:30.

Motion was made by Hagan to end executive session at 12:15. MCU

Dee Johnson will put together a job description for the temporary, part-time position and compile other duties that will be learned and covered by the director. The position will pay $12.33/hour.

Claims of the day will be paid. (M) – Johnson; (2) – Hilkemann. MCU

The next meeting will be January 15th online at 11:30 AM.

Meeting was adjourned at 11:45 AM. (M)- Hilkemann (2) Johnson.

Respectfully submitted,

Beth Foulks, Secretary
